NON-RETURN OF CHINESE TO CANTON CAUSING JAPANESE CONCERN

NO NOMINEE TO HEAD PROPOSED NEW REGIME

Canton, November 4. Interviewed at his headquarters in Tungsan by Reuters' correspondent, Major Tanaka, Chief of Staff of the Japanese South China Expeditionary Force, expressed concern regarding the non-return of the Chinese population to Canton which is holding up the realisation of the Japanese desire to restore normal trade and business.

He said that the Japanese had no nominee in mind to head the proposed new regime in South China and all efforts for organisation of a local government obviously depended on the return of the population.

He also stated that the Japanese Navy was doing its utmost to clear the Pearl River of mines, of which about 100 have already been removed, and to open the river for traffic as soon as possible. Asked to estimate the date when the river will be re-opened, Major Tanaka stated: "In three or four days time it will be possible for small ships to travel but at the moment larger vessels (meaning river steamers) will not be possible for another two or three weeks."—Reuters.

Anxiety For Position Of Foreigners In Kuling

MOUNTAIN RESORT COMPLETELY SURROUNDED BY JAPANESE

Hankow, November 4. Anxiety is again being felt for the position of foreigners in Kuling.

Japanese forces have completely surrounded the mountain on which Kuling is situated but apparently have not intended to occupy the actual summer resort.

At the same time it is estimated that there are between 1,000 and 2,000 Chinese troops somewhere on the mountain side within the cordons whose food supplies are rapidly dwindling.

On the other hand, Kuling residents are comfortably stocked with food for a few months but now it is feared that the Chinese soldiers may seize the supplies of the foreigners.

The British and American authorities are very anxious to co-operate in any way possible with the Japanese to arrange for the evacuation of their nationals.

This, however, may prove a difficult task as of the 200 residents of Kuling, including 60 British, there are many elderly folk among whom are many invalids who would probably refuse to evacuate. —Reuters.

IGNORED

BRITISH GIRL MISSING

Not Seen Since Wednesday

The mystery of Marie Carmichael appears to be still unsolved.

Miss Carmichael, it will be recalled, was reported missing on Thursday in the following brief words: "She left her home at No. 55 Jubilee Building, Shamshui, about 2.30 p.m. on Wednesday, to visit friends in Hankow Road; she left these friends at 11 p.m. and has since not returned home."

Late on Thursday she was reported found by a police communique issued yesterday morning contradicted this.

Since then there have been no further developments.

WARNINGS ABOUT MINES IN PEARL RIVER DELTA

H. M. S. Cicala Makes Trip From Canton To Kongmoon

COURTEOUS FIRMNESS SHOWN JAPANESE

IGNORING REPEATED WARNINGS from the Japanese authorities that the Pearl River Delta was full of mines laid by Chinese and that any foreign vessels venturing to move in the area did so at considerable risk, H.M.S. Cicala, a river gunboat, left Canton on Wednesday for Kongmoon, a port practically at the mouth of the West River, 25 miles from Canton, and reached there on the following day.

Her purpose was to investigate reports that British interests and nationals were in jeopardy from Chinese handbills in the Sun Wu and other districts.

According to Reuters, the Cicala received her first orders on Sunday morning to leave Canton for Kongmoon as hostilities were reported to be threatening the port.

As soon as she had gone four miles downriver from Canton, the Cicala received a request from the Japanese naval authorities to halt "on the grounds that the river has been closed by the Japanese authorities."

After referring the matter to the Senior Naval Officer of the West River, the Cicala received no notification to the effect that the river had been closed, therefore the British authorities were unable to recognise the Japanese request.

The Japanese then lowered a boat, boarded the Cicala and politely explained that it was exceedingly dangerous to proceed downriver owing to the presence of Chinese mines. They stated that they could not be held responsible for any incident that might occur and requested that the Cicala's trip should voluntarily be postponed for a short while.

The Cicala thereupon dropped anchor while the issue was referred to the higher authorities.

On Wednesday morning, after negotiations, during the course of which the Japanese reiterated their warning against mines, the British gunboat received final orders to proceed to Kongmoon as originally arranged. When taking this decision, the British authorities accepted full responsibility for the risk and danger of mines.

Accordingly, the Cicala left and completed the journey to Kongmoon without incident. At Kongmoon, it was found that conditions were quiet. There are at present six British subjects and ten other foreigners in the city.

Shanghai, Nov. 4. The successful completion of H.M.S. Cicala's journey has created a considerable impression in foreign circles in Shanghai.

"The American Evening Post" comments: "We compliment the British commander-in-chief, Vice-Admiral Sir Percy Noble, for his courteous firmness in declining to let the Japanese naval authorities dictate orders to British gunboats... it is impossible to take seriously the Japanese solicitude for Cicala's safety."

"The British attitude appears to have been faultless throughout. Some may say the British erred on the side of too much patience but we feel that in troubled times it is always necessary to display tact and patience with both belligerents."

"That is not, however, to say that third parties should back down. Events have conclusively demonstrated that the British High Command has fully grasped this vital point."—Reuters.

APPEAL ALLOWED

Important Issue In Trade Mark Case

Sitting in the Full Court of Appeal yesterday the Acting Chief Justice, Mr. Justice R. E. Lindsell and the Acting Puisne Judge, Mr. Justice E. H. Williams, heard the appeal by W. Latrille, manager of the United Lamp Company, against the dismissal of a summons by Mr. R. Edwards, brought against Kong Kam, of Gilman Street.

The summons alleged that Kong had in his possession for the purposes of trade, electric lamp bulbs encased in paper wrappers to which had been applied the words "Tak Shing" "Yeung Hong," meaning German Merchant Foreign Firm, thereby indicating that the goods were of German manufacture whereas they were not.

Mr. H. W. Lee, instructed by Mr. O. E. C. Marton, appeared for the appellants while respondent was not present in Court.

IMPORTANT CASE

Addressing the Court Mr. Lee said the appeal was against a summons which was dismissed by the Lower Court. The point of issue in the case was of great importance to the Colony where members of all nationalities traded side by side.

The facts of the case, Mr. Lee continued, were that in June this year, the appellant learned that certain electric lamp bulbs, purported to be of German manufacture, were on sale. He bought two of these and on making a careful examination of them found they were not of German manufacture.

Respondent contended that the word Tak did not mean German but virtuous and that all the four characters together represented the name of his firm.

Evidence was given by W. Latrille and others supporting the appeal which was allowed.

NOT AS EASY AS HE THOUGHT

Two months' hard labour was imposed on Lal Pun, 28-year old unemployed, when he appeared before Mr. R. Edwards at Central Magistracy yesterday charged with stealing a jacket, a pair of spectacles and keys from Mr. V. F. M. de Souza, of Cable and Wireless, Ltd.

It was stated that defendant walked into Mr. Souza's office, took the coat hung up, and began walking away when he was seen by another employee of the firm.

RETURNED FROM BANISHMENT

With a five-year prison term imposed in 1932 behind him, Chan Fat, aged 30, unemployed, was sentenced to one year's hard labour by Mr. T. J. Houston at Central Magistracy yesterday on charges of loitering, possession of an instrument fit for an unlawful purpose and returning from banishment of ten years.

Detective-Sergeant J. R. Bentley, who prosecuted, said defendant was found in Ship Street at 3.30 a.m. on November 3, and was unable to give a satisfactory explanation of his movements.

FOUND HANGED IN CELL

Committed to stand his trial at the Criminal Sessions on a heroin offence, Mah Chi, 30, unemployed, died in a cell at the old Victoria Gaol when waiting to be taken to Stanley Prison on Thursday.

It is believed that Mah, who was found dead by an Indian guard, hanged himself by tying his straw mat into strips and suspending himself on an iron gate of his cell.

An inquest will be held.

TRAFFIC COURT CASES

Sequel To Island Road Chase

Fast driving in Island Road on the night of October 25, when he was chased by an Inspector of Police, resulted in the appearance before Mr. H. R. Butters at Central Magistracy yesterday of Chung Fing-sang, driver of lorry No. 4421.

Inspector W. Malr, prosecuting, said he was on patrol in a car about 9 p.m. At the bottom of Dotry Farm Hill lorry No. 4421 flew past the car and as it passed the bend the lorry was swaying to and fro. He told the driver of the car he was in to chase the lorry and he was in to chase the lorry and he was in to chase the lorry.

A fine of $25 was imposed.

COLLISION SEQUEL

As a sequel to an accident in the early hours of October 9, when the car he was driving collided with a tram standard in Queen's Road, East opposite Wellington Barracks, causing serious damage to the car and injury to its passenger, Ng Man, public car driver, was summoned before Mr. Butters for driving without due care and caution.

Following evidence by Mr. J. S. A. Curran, clerk at Messrs. Deacons, who was the passenger in the car at the time, Traffic-Sergeant Youe said damage to the front part of the car was to the extent of $400 to $500, and the vehicle had been exchanged for a new one.

Defendant, who had no changes against him since 1935, was fined $25.

HUSBAND, WIFE, CONCUBINE

Domestic Fight Ends In Court

"Fifty defendant did not hit you instead," remarked Mr. T. J. Houston at Central Magistracy to the husband of a woman whom he discharged on a count of assaulting the man's concubine.

Defendant was Pun Kwai-ying, 24, married woman, and complainant, Lal Sul-chun, concubine. Inspector A. V. Baker, prosecuting, stated that on October 7 the husband told his wife he was going to live in Wanchai, leaving her to stay in the Central district. He gave her a sum of $5 for expenses.

Since then he had given her nothing and on Thursday the wife, her finances having run out, went to the Wanchai address and asked for more money. An argument arose between the concubine and herself and a fight ensued, in the course of which pots and pans were thrown.

It was the fault of the husband, Inspector Baker concluded, as he was apparently leaving his wife to live with the concubine.

CATHOLIC NEWS AND NOTES

ARMISTICE DAY

On November 11, Armistice Day, there will be a special Catholic Service of Remembrance, with Mass and Sermon, at St. Joseph's Church, Garden Road, at 9 a.m. The Catholic celebration of this occasion always consists of prayers for the dead and prayers for peace. From the point of view of Catholic doctrine this "Remembrance Day" comes appropriately in the month of November, the month specially set apart from prayers for the dead, and in the week after the special commemoration of the Faithful Departed.

Catholics believe that the best form of remembrance is prayer for the departed souls, for this will benefit them if they are in need of prayer, and it brings comfort to the relatives of those who are dead, for it gives them the satisfaction of knowing that they can still help their loved ones beyond the grave. The celebration of this day in a proper religious spirit is a strong influence for peace.

THE APOSTOLSHIP OF THE SEA

One of the many international Congresses that met during the last few months was that of the "Apostleship of the Sea," which assembled in Glasgow. This "Apostleship" is simply a Catholic organization designed to care for the spiritual welfare of men at sea. It has centres in all the chief ports of the world, and twenty nations sent representatives to the Congress. The chairman was Admiral Hornell, who takes a leading part in the work in England. He is a brother of the former Vice-Chancellor of the Hongkong University, and is a convert to the Catholic Church.

It was pointed out at the Congress that there are 82,000 Catholics among the seamen of Britain, and in the whole world some 800,000, two-thirds of the whole number of seafaring men. The spirit of the work of the Apostleship is to help the sailors to help themselves, and to supply their own leaders. This ideal has to a large extent realised.

At a general meeting held in the cinema in Glasgow, musical items introduced the serious work of the evening. One of the singers was a well-known Scots tenor, Mr. Sydney McEwan, who is very popular with concert audiences all over Scotland. Though few who were present were aware of it, it was Mr. McEwan's last public performance, for very soon after the concert he left Glasgow to study for the priesthood.

UNEXPECTED CALLS TO THE PRIESTHOOD

When one such as a popular tenor decides to become a priest, there are always some who say it is a pity—as if his life were going to be wasted. These unexpected calls to the priesthood are, however, not as rare as one might think. Two exceptional ones came to light recently.

One was recalled by the death of Fr. Koliparanabill, an Indian priest of the Quilon diocese. As a young man he was engaged to be married. All arrangements were completed and he left his house one day in order to buy the clothes that he would wear at the wedding. While he was out he changed his mind, and before he returned home he had decided to become a priest. He was ordained thirty-one years at the time of his death.

The other was Fr. John D'Elbee, the new Superior-General of the new Superior-General of the Congregation to which Fr. Damien, the priest of the lepers, belonged, and whose members are in charge of the Catholic missions on the island of Hainan. He was a married man before he decided to become a priest, and what is more unusual still is the fact that his wife is still living. Both decided to enter religious life and in such circumstances special permission can be given. Fr. d'Elbee's wife is superior of a Carmelite convent in London.

THE IDEAL LAY APOSTLE

In Liverpool there is a College of Catholic Action, in which people are taught how to work for God while still performing the ordinary duties of their state.

At a recent meeting there the life of a young Mexican girl was put forward as worthy of admiration. She was a victim of the Mexican persecution, for she was among the many who were put to death there for their Faith. She died four years ago after a remarkable life. Her name among the people was "Mary of Light," and her work consisted in teaching Catholic doctrine to the children whom the Government forced to attend anti-Catholic schools. She aimed at doing her work not merely from a good motive but in the very best way that it could be done. So she was regarded as an ideal teacher. Her classes were models, and many who were opposed to her work tried to induce her to take up teaching as a profession, declaring that she would be a leader in education in the country.

Her ability and zeal combined to produce outstanding results, and it was because she influenced hundreds of children to lead a good Catholic life in spite of the influence of the godless schools that she was murdered. It is in accordance with the spirit of Catholic Action that work must be done well from every point of view, material as well as spiritual.

LESSON SERMON

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Hongkong.

Subject—Adam and Fallen Man.

The subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Christian Science Churches, to-morrow, November 6 will be "Adam and Fallen Man."

The Golden Text will be—"He that is of the earth is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heaven is above all." (John 3:31).

Among others the following citations will be read from the Bible:—"There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the spirit the things of the Spirit. For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace. But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you." (Romans 8:1-5, 6, 9).

The following citations will also be read from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:—"There will be greater mental opposition to the spiritual, scientific meaning of the Scriptures than there has ever been since the Christian era began. The serpent, material sense, will bite the heel of the woman, will struggle to destroy the spiritual idea of Love; and the woman, this idea, will bruise the head of lust. The spiritual idea has given the understanding a foothold in Christian Science." (Page 534).

DOOR-TO-DOOR DRUG SALES

Chemists Call For Restriction

Criticism of the public's encouragement of the sale of drugs and medicines from door to door and in market places was voiced recently at the banquet in association with the British Pharmaceutical Conference in Edinburgh.

Mr. Thomas Guthrie, President of the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain, emphasised that there was in this country a system of pharmaceutical education unsurpassed in any other land.

The Society's aim was to give the people of Great Britain a pharmaceutical service sufficient for their needs and in the highest degree efficient.

"But," said Mr. Guthrie, "it is beyond my understanding to explain the inconsistencies of human behaviour. Here you have a body of men, 24,000 strong, highly trained for the sole purpose of dispensing prescriptions and supplying the sick with medicines."

"Yet what do we find in this hurry-burry of civilisation? We find one drug-selling shop to every 40 inhabited houses. We find medicines sold in the market places and hawked from door to door."

"I am even told that packed drugs are displayed in public houses."

"If the sale of medicines and the dispensing of prescriptions were reserved to pharmacists, as Queen Victoria intended when she signed our Charter, pharmacy would be more a profession and less a trade, and the people of this country would be safer than they are to-day."

Mr. W. C. Balfour, a Government actuary, is to leave England shortly to act as actuary to the Australian Government. He will be entrusted with the supervision of the actuarial side of Australia's health and pensions insurance scheme, which will come into operation in 1939.

NEED TO EDUCATE YOUNG CITIZENS

Penalty Of Neglect

Mr. T. A. Warren, of Wolverhampton, speaking at a conference of the National Association of Juvenile Employment and Welfare Officers at Portsmouth recently, urged the need to educate the adolescent so that he would know his responsibility when he was old enough to exercise the franchise.

"A continuance of the old laissez-faire attitude will spell national suicide in the new age of acute nationalistic fervour and competition," he said.

"The present position in England is lamentable. Sixty per cent. of our nationals aged 14 to 18 are left without spiritual or educational guidance. From 18 to 21 the position is much worse.

"We criticise what happens in some other countries, but at least they are showing deep interest in all their adolescents without exception. This country has now to do something big to ensure the calibre of its citizenship. Muddling through is an old game of ours that we might play once too often.

"A really comprehensive scheme of education and social guidance in adolescence would, in fairly quick time, solve many of our perplexing problems."

MR. YOSHIDA LEAVES ENGLAND

Mr. Shigeru Yoshida, the Japanese Ambassador in London, embarked in the French liner Ile de France at Southampton recently on his way back to Japan at the expiration of his period of office as Ambassador.

He said that he had been delighted with the very friendly co-operation he had received in England.

The new Japanese Ambassador to Britain is Mr. Shigenori Togo, formerly Ambassador in Moscow.

FOOD CONTROL IN TIME OF WAR

Government Plans Ready

ENFORCEMENT IN 24 HOURS

Government arrangements for feeding the population in time of war and its plans for rationing were described recently by Sir Henry L. French, Director of the Food Defence Plans Department of the Board of Trade.

Sir Henry, who was speaking at the luncheon of the International Grocers' and Provision Dealers' Exhibition at Agricultural Hall, London, made it clear that the arrangements were designed to meet a "hypothetical future emergency," and had "no direct reference to the present situation."

Action, he said, could be taken in emergency within 24 hours.

"In time of war," Sir Henry continued, "all bulk supplies will continue to flow down normal channels, but we recognise that circumstances might arise which would necessitate a greater economy of transport than exists in normal times. Therefore, we have devised schemes for modifying and, if necessary, supplementing the normal channels."

NATION-WIDE ORGANISATION

A nation-wide organisation had recently been set up in which experienced people in every locality would be available to help in the distribution of perishable commodities—bacon, butter, cheese, cooking fats, etc.

To deal with the supply of food to consumers, 18 divisional food officers had been appointed in Great Britain, a chief divisional officer in Scotland and another for London and the Home Counties.

Appointments had been made of about 1,500 local food executive officers. These officials had received instructions about what they were to do if they were notified that the Government had decided to call local food control committees into being.

"All are in being, ready to jump into operation," Sir Henry said.

The local food control committees would be responsible for the registration of food retailers in their areas, and for compiling a record of stocks of essential commodities. They would be entrusted with the local administration of many of the food control orders.

Their proper function, however, would be to administer the national rationing scheme.

NO LOCAL SCHEMES

In the Great War there were local rationing schemes at various times in different areas. Sir Henry said that it was contemplated that there would not be any occasion for local schemes in a future emergency.

"In all probability," he said, "the national scheme will be put into operation with very little delay after an outbreak of hostilities."

It is considered probable that the commodities which would be rationed from the outset would be butcher's meat, bacon, butter and margarine, cooking fats and sugar. Other commodities might have to be added.

Sir Henry said that it has been thought impracticable to rely on the same plan for food supply and rationing as in the Great War.

"On the outbreak of any hostilities," he said, "it would be lamentable if a number of food traders took the view that once food control had been imposed the Government would accept full responsibility, and that personal initiative would no longer be required."

If war began every member of the food trade in this country should carry on as he did in normal times, dealing with his usual suppliers and his usual customers, until instructed otherwise.

CANADA IN THE EVENT OF WAR

The recent days of stress led to a quiet stock-taking of the capabilities of Canada in the event of war.

It is disclosed that an army of 50,000 could quickly be raised, if necessary, by carrying out plans of the General Staff, with due apportionment to each military district.

The Air Force has about 400 planes, but something under 200 are in the first-class category and some of them are under construction just now.

There has been a steady increase in the mechanisation of the Militia units and in transport equipment. Six destroyers and five mine-sweepers are in operation.

HITLER'S MOUSTACHE AS PROPAGANDA

Original propaganda methods employed by Germany among the Sudeten Germans in Czechoslovakia were described by Lady Zimmern, wife of Sir Alfred Zimmern, Professor of International Relations at Oxford University, in an address to the Kooroor Club recently.

Sudeten school children, she said, were given photographs of the President of Czechoslovakia (Dr. Benes) with instructions how to change his face into that of Hitler, with a lock of hair over the forehead and a moustache.

She added that Germans had been selling cheap wireless sets to Sudetens which could be tuned in only to Berlin broadcasting stations.

K.C.'s Son, 24, Turns Hermit

MARK GRANTHAM, twenty-four-year-old son of Mr. W. W. Grantham, K.C., after living alone in the wilds of Labrador for two years, has decided to say goodbye to civilisation for ever.

He has given up a career and the comforts of his parents' home in Sussex for a log-cabin on the banks of the North-West River, where for four months of the year he is snowed up and shut off from all touch with the outside world, writes a Home correspondent.

News of his decision to spend the rest of his life next to nature was given to me by his father, who occupies chambers in the Temple, E.C.

Mr. Grantham is known to the public not only as a lawyer and Recorder of Deal, but for his advocacy of stoolball, which game he claims as the "father of cricket."

In his chambers recently he wore a century-old shepherd's smock.

'HIS OWN LIFE'

He said: "Mark as a schoolboy was delicate. Two years ago he was studying at Plumpton agricultural college. When I suggested that he should join my old friends Sir Wilfred and Lady Grenfell in their hospital work in Labrador, he jumped at the idea.

"Now he has a bachelor home two miles from his nearest neighbours, who are trappers, and he fetches his stores by canoe. He is learning trapping and how to drive dog teams.

"He has grown to love the solitude and peace. He is happy because he can do as he pleases and live his own life."

RETURN OF BOY EXPLORERS

Leader's Tribute

The seventh annual expedition of the Public Schools Exploring Society, under the leadership of Surgn.-Cmndr. G. Murray Levick, R.N., returned to London from Newfoundland recently with all its members in excellent health.

At Euston Station Cmndr. Levick said "The trip was one of the most successful we have ever had. Not one of the 42 boys was a misfit."

"Survey parties made two separate journeys from the base camp to map the country towards the upper waters of the Humber River. The portable wireless sets, constructed

YELLOW JACK

Modern motion picture magic has coloured the brighter pages of history in a new salute to heroic scientists. It is "Yellow Jack," dedicated to those five soldiers who risked their lives to free humanity from the yoke of yellow fever. The picture opens to-day at the King's Theatre.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has spared nothing in making the authentic story of Major Walter Reed a thrilling tribute to the man responsible for lifting the yoke of fever from Cuba in the distressing days following the Spanish-American War.

The carefully chosen cast includes Robert Montgomery, Virginia Bruce, Lewis Stone, Andy Devine, Henry Hull, Charles Coburn and Buddy Ebsen.

When good actors get together, something exciting is bound to happen. Which is just another way of saying that the newest Columbia musical, "Start Cheering," which opens to-morrow at the Majestic Theatre, is good entertainment.

It is tuneful and funny and fast, and it boasts one of the largest collections of star names the screen has ever seen.

Vivid Example Of Clever Japanese Propaganda

BELOW IS AN EXTRACT FROM AN ARTICLE by a prominent Japanese politician and "educationalist," which gives a vivid example of the clever propaganda by which the higher-placed ones in Japan are trying to sow the seeds of antagonism against Great Britain.

The author of the article is Dr. Ujito Oyama, formerly Consul-General at Los Angeles, and the thoughtful reader can easily see the undertone of his theme, which, while chastising Britain, seeks insidiously to gain sympathy from the United States.

Dr. Oyama starts by drawing attention to Britain's terrible unreasonableness in wanting Japan to respect her rights and interests in Chinese territory occupied by Japanese troops. He reminds his readers that it has been said that thus far in the war there have been more than 100 incidents concerning which Britain has made claims to the Tokyo Government—these incidents, presumably, being entirely the fault of His Britannic Majesty's Government.

He adds the little threat that while Japan, true to her tradition of generosity, is always willing to admit claims that are "just and legitimate" she requires absolute freedom of military operations in the occupied areas, and, if a third Power or Powers, "in their eagerness to have an eye on the main chance," ignore Japan's position and go so far as to take an unfriendly or hostile attitude, Japan will have to adopt firm measures accordingly.

BLIND PREJUDICE

This eminent and fair-minded writer goes on to point out that Britain's many sins thus far, her unjustified and blind prejudice of Japan's noble aims, her stupid and unfair partiality for the victim of aggression.

As examples of this, he quotes the British Government's "placing at General Chiang Kai-shek's disposal a widespread network of communications to facilitate anti-Japanese propaganda," "her permitting supply of arms to China through Hongkong," and the financial support which "there can be no doubt Britain is continuing to give to the Chiang regime."

Dr. Oyama is kind enough to warn His Majesty's Government of the dangers of such actions. To use his own words: "Some British people who are over-confident of British influence in the East are obviously under the impression that Japanese rights and interests along the Yangtze Valley will not be successfully maintained without Britain's understanding and co-operation."

Such a conception is an amazing anachronism. It is true that Britain's supremacy along the Yangtze once constituted a chapter in Oriental history, but to-day it is but a memory. A complete change has taken place. It is now Great Britain rather than Japan that must needs seek understanding and co-operation.

NUMEROUS PROBLEMS

"Unfortunately, however, the majority of the English people have not as yet realised this. In consequence, they are inclined to think that they are still in a position of giving, and not of seeking, adjustment of Anglo-Japanese relations, and that Japan should settle the numerous, pending problems as a means of obtaining such adjustment. What is more, Great Britain is expecting that Japan will find it expedient to settle these problems. We are afraid, however, that Great Britain will be disappointed in her hopes, unless she alters her China policy and her attitude towards this country."

Whether the above remarks, the feature of an amazing diatribe, are really meant we cannot say, but they reflect a school of thought that has been cultivated amongst the higher classes in Japan and one which is now being impressed on the masses.

Dr. Oyama then compares the irrational attitude of Great Britain with the obliging and friendly one of Japan's Pacific neighbour, remarking that, when the Japanese Government advised third Powers to remove their warships and merchantmen from the Yangtze battle zone to places of safety, U.S. vessels promptly obeyed, but the British took no notice of it, staying where they were and thereby "giving every facility to the Chinese troops in their retreat."

STRAY BULLETS

By that, one presumes that proximity of anything British, whether ships, property or people, has heretofore been so religiously considered that it was impossible for the Japanese to deal with "retreating Chinese troops" if there were the slightest danger of stray bullets, shells or bombs causing harm to anything over which the Union Jack waves.

This consideration on the part of the Japanese has, of course, been proved by incidents, such as the machine-gunning of the British Ambassador, the bombing of H.M.S. Ladybird, assaults on British subjects, etc. Or perhaps these were accidents.

The author touches briefly on Soviet Russia, which, "no doubt, desires to see Chiang retreat into northwestern part of China, so that he may be kept within communist influence." As a matter of fact, according to Dr. Oyama, there is a sort of struggle between Soviet Russia and Great Britain to make political capital out of the Chiang regime! From this angle, he stressed the importance of the prompt occupation of Canton and Hankow.

"No time should be lost in carrying out such a plan, Dr. Oyama concludes. Delays are dangerous in matters of importance. If the far-reaching British policy materialises, as no doubt it will unless Japan acts promptly, we fear that we shall find not only that our sea defence line will be blocked, but also that our objective, mainly the overthrow of the Chiang regime, will meet with a setback."

Since these words were written, Canton has been captured; therefore Japan's troubles should be half or three-quarter over, according to the writer's point of view. But do events day by day bear this out?

JAPANESE CHARGES PROVED FALSE AS CHINA REAFFIRMS DETERMINATION TO RESIST

Chungking, November 4.

TYPICAL JAPANESE MILITARY SWAGGER and spiritual bravado is how the Chinese official spokesman to-day described the statement issued on Wednesday by the Japanese Government declaring, among other things, that it would not reject participation of the Kuomintang in establishing a new order in the Far East if the Chinese Party repudiated its anti-Japanese and pro-Communist policy.

THE SPOKESMAN TERMED THE STATEMENT as "a grave insult to human intelligence," and said that as far as written statements were concerned, hardly anything more effective could be conceived to provoke the Chinese people to greater determination to carry on the bitter struggle and also to shatter the hopes of third parties for an early conclusion of the devastating conflict.

Facts Belie Japan's Claim

Tokyo's contention that the loss of Canton and Hankow has reduced the National Government to the status of a local administration, said the spokesman, was completely belied by facts, although the Japanese people won't know this until it is too late to save their country from utter ruin.

THE JAPANESE claim that they have captured half of China's territory, but fail to add that few Japanese soldiers are safe if they venture too far beyond their precarious lines of communication," he stated.

No less than three-fourths of the territory behind Japanese lines are under the effective control of the Chinese Government.

Even the polling of the occupied areas, not to mention the hopeless task of trying to crush Chinese partisans, is a military as well as financial burden of such magnitude that the Japanese people cannot afford to bear.

NEW STAGE IN WAR

The spokesman reiterated the point made by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek in his recent manifesto that the war had now reached a new stage wherein circumstances lay to the advantage of China's defensive warfare.

CHINESE resistance will continue until Japan collapses out of sheer exhaustion," he said. "The Chinese nation is standing solidly behind the leadership of the Generalissimo, whose political and moral stature has grown with the present struggle for national existence. The Chinese nation accepts Tokyo's challenge to continue the struggle to the bitter end."

The spokesman went on to refute the contention that Japan is fighting a hostile China and to protect the world from Communism.

Statistical facts proved, he said, that Chinese people are not in any way anti-Japanese. Japan had been doing a prosperous trade with China until the present undeclared war began.

Regarding Communism, although he denied that such an ideological issue could be cited in defence of an aggressive war, the spokesman stated that it was a fact that nothing in the political or economic structure of China revealed any trace or inclination towards Marxism.

JAPAN'S "CO-OPERATION" Discussing the argument that Japan is motivated by the desire to create a new East Asia based on political economic and cultural co-operation between the two countries, the spokesman commented: "For fifteen months the world has witnessed how the Japanese tried to create the new order they profess by killing and bombing not only combatants but also the mass of civilians, including invalids, in hospitals, women in homes and children in schools.

While China is not opposed to co-operation with Japan on equal terms as with any country, the Chinese people are determined to oppose to the bitter end Tokyo's offer of political co-operation, which in reality means surrender of sacred rights and a free and independent existence.

CHINA WILL RESIST

In the same way, China will resist with all her power the brutal Japanese attempts to force her into economic and cultural co-operation, for by economic co-operation Japan means downright plunder of Chinese resources while cultural advances are attempts to force on China a system of slavish education designed to enlist future generations as cannon fodder for further Japanese expansion at the expense of all Pacific powers."

As reiterated by Generalissimo Chiang and approved by the People's Political Council, the spokesman concluded by saying: "China is determined to struggle until Japan abandons her policy of aggression and encroachment upon China's sovereign rights and territorial integrity."—Reuter.

Nine Power Pact Still Valid

Washington, Nov. 4

On the anniversary of the Brussels Conference, the State Department yesterday published the text of the proceedings, which hitherto has not been published.

A statement by Mr. Norman Davis, the chief American delegate, to Mr. Cordell Hull, declared that the conference's achievements were, inter alia, a demonstration of Japan's unwillingness to resort to conciliation, clarification of the fact that the Japanese continue to insist that the issues are exclusive to Japan and China, whereas the conference Powers, except Italy, affirmed that the situation concerned all members of the family of nations, and finally emphasized that the conference was not ended, but was in recess, and subject to reconvening.

In view of the developments following the fall of Canton and Hankow, the reminder of the continued validity of the Nine-Power Treaty, explicit in these documents, is considered significant.—Reuter.

BIG EXPLOSIONS ROCK FATSHAN

Canton's Pathetic Desolateness

Canton, Nov. 4.

Several explosions of tremendous magnitude were felt in Canton yesterday afternoon, and towards dusk large columns of smoke were seen rising to the sky south-west of the city. It is believed that the explosion occurred at Fatshan, ten miles south-west of Canton.

Meanwhile a procession of Japanese troops and supplies has continued for the past two days, going westward.

Following a fortnight's blackout as a result of the blowing-up of the power station on the East Bund, the new Shamen plant was operating for the first time on Wednesday night. Last night half of the concession had power between 5 p.m. and 10 p.m., and it is hoped consequently that current will be available for 20 hours each day.

This will greatly relieve the inconvenience due to lack of ice, as well as enable Shamen to listen in by radio to the news of the world. There is at present a complete absence of news in the papers.

CITY DESERTED

Carriers with mails left Canton yesterday in an attempt to reach Hongkong by foot. The last mail arrived here on October 19.

A tour of the city reveals that the return of the population has been very small. Wreckage, untidiness, and pathetic emptiness is visible everywhere.

The sound of mahjong was heard in Canton for the first time yesterday since the ban was placed on gambling two years ago when the New Life Movement was very strong.—Reuter.

KWANGTUNG WARNS PEOPLE AGAINST JAPANESE

Anyone found paying tax or extending financial or material support to the Japanese will be considered as a traitor, according to a proclamation issued by the Kwangtung Provincial Government to-day.

Non-recognition of puppet governments and their illegal actions in areas now under the enemy's occupation is reiterated in the proclamation.

At a recent meeting the Kwangtung authorities decided to establish temporary offices at important places along the East and West Rivers and in south Kwangtung to facilitate administrative work.—Central News.

DESERVING CHARITABLE CAUSE

All who have passed by the Peninsula Hotel, during the past week have noticed the erection of elaborate bamboo structures on the ground adjoining it on Nathan Road. This is in preparation for the Annual Bazaar in aid of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, which will be held there tomorrow from 3 to 11 p.m.

This is the 55th annual bazaar organized by the Society, and every effort has been made to make it the best of the series.

The great increase of poverty in the city, as a result of the crowded state of the poorer quarters, has led to a greatly increased number of calls for assistance from the Society, and it is hoped that as a result of to-morrow's Fete it will be in a position to distribute help with greater liberality than before.

The unique character of the work of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul consists in the fact that all the assistance which it gives to the poor is distributed in their own homes, and all by voluntary workers. This ensures that help is given to those who need it most and that practically all administrative expenses are eliminated.

Those who contribute to the funds of the Society have therefore the assurance that everything which they give goes directly to the most deserving of the poor. No consideration of race or creed is taken into account, and the fact that the Society has had the confidence of people of all classes during the 75 years of its existence in Hongkong is a proof that its work is well done.

To-morrow's bazaar has attractions to suit all. There is a great variety of games of skill, for which prizes will be given very liberally. Visitors will find that they can enjoy themselves in the grounds without being annoyed by excessive importunity.

His Excellency the Governor and Lady Northcote will attend for the opening ceremony at 3 o'clock. Admission tickets, which cost only 10 cents, enable holders to participate in a draw for an all-wave wireless set.

In connection with the Fete, Rev. Fr. Gallagher gave a broadcast talk over Z.B.W. last night on the work of the Society.

MARRIAGE OF CANADIANS

Pretty Ceremony At Peak Church

Many friends of the bride and bridegroom from their native city of Vancouver witnessed the wedding at the Peak Church yesterday afternoon of Mr. Malcolm Hardie, of the Indo-China Steam Navigation Co., Ltd., and Miss Marjorie Mavis Hobson.

The bride arrived in the Colony on Wednesday in the Empress of Japan together with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. L. Hobson.

The Very Rev. J. L. Wilson, Dean of the Cathedral, performed the ceremony, while Mr. R. W. Draney attended the groom as best man.

A reception was afterwards held at Woodland, No. 378 The Peak, the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Hopes, when the happy couple received the congratulations of their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardie later left for their honeymoon at Repulse Bay.

FIRST OF THE SEASON

C.B.A. Hold Cabaret-Supper Dance

GREAT SUCCESS

The Central British Association held their first Cabaret-Supper Dance this season in the Rose Room of the Peninsula Hotel last night. There was a large and jolly crowd attending, indicating that these dances will be even more popular this season than they were last.

The first number on the Cabaret programme was a Ballroom Tango, danced with professional ease by Peggy Eccleshall, partnered by George Arnold. This was followed by an encore consisting of bit-bits from the Modern Waltz, Shag, Old Fashioned Waltz, Big Apple and the Lambeth Walk.

Then came a humorous dialogue by Anne Organ, whose exceptionally fine carrying voice made her number outstanding, because it was clearly heard throughout the room, which is not usually the case with this type of item.

Next on the programme were several haunting Hawaiian melodies, rendered by Miss Joyce Nash on her electric guitar, accompanied by Maestro Caplo. Miss Nash is a newcomer and, judging from the popularity of her numbers, we expect to hear more of her at future C. B. A. functions.

The programme was concluded by Miss Peggy Scotcher, in a very professionally rendered Scarf Dance, arranged by George Goncharoff. In spite of a very slippery floor, Miss Scotcher carried out her dance with her usual grace and poise.

The dance was continued until 2 a.m.

JOLLY NIGHT PROMISED AT K.C.C.

Saturday, November 19, has been selected as the date for the next dance on Kowloon Cricket Club's Winter programme, and, if early reservations are any criterion, it should be a jolly night.

The last dance attracted over 150 people, and it is confidently believed that this number will be exceeded on the 19th, when the popular Dance Band of 2nd Bn. The Royal Scots, by kind permission of the Officer Commanding and Officers, will be in attendance from 9.30 p.m. till 2 a.m.

Tables may be reserved for parties of six for over, prices of tickets, including light refreshments, being $2.00 gentlemen and $1.50 ladies.

The Whampoa Conservancy Board, Shanghai, is negotiating with the Japanese military authorities for the release of the dredgers which were confiscated at the start of the local hostilities and have been held by the Japanese since. Silt in the Whampoa River is piling up, much to the inconvenience of navigation, and these vessels will be needed to dredge the river during the coming shallow water season.

UNION CHURCH HOLD BAZAAR

Cakes, Needlework And Raffles

There is no living without some sort of day by day and year by year charity. Yesterday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock the Union Church in Kennedy Road were doing their share towards kindness and necessities for those less fortunate under their protection.

Under the capable supervision of Mrs. J. A. R. Selby a bazaar was held for Church members and the public. The 50 attending patrons and customers were enjoying the various raffles on dolls and pictures; also the hand-made baby clothes were admired and purchased by many ladies.

Fluffy, rich, home-made cookies, cakes and other sweets tempted even those ladies who should have been on a diet. And many housewives were buying the home-made preserves out of stock.

NEEDLEWORK

Odd groups of needlework were on display and other different household necessities. Quite a few dress closet accessories were for sale in attractive designs and coverings, such as shoe-trees, hangers, racks, etc.

Tea with sandwiches and cakes was served at individual tables in the courtyard and the Church Hall.

The Church ladies, their friends and the hostess, the attractive Mrs. McKenzie Dow, wife of the Minister, were attired in the winter's latest offerings in afternoon ensembles of the fashion picture and each of them were spending a delightful talkative hour in the bazaar and at the tea tables. It must have been a success!

A DOCTOR TELLS

An amusing book has been written by witty Dr. Ernest Parker, a Norfolk practising physician. It tells how the doctor blundered. A lady came to see him with a cyst on the side of her head. He arranged for an operation, and administered the anaesthetic.

When the cyst had been removed, Dr. Parker, pointing to a small hairy mole on the woman's chin, said to the surgeon: "We may as well make the lady as beautiful as possible, so you had better take that away."

Calling at the nursing home later, Parker found his patient in tears. "Doctor," she sobbed, "You have taken away my little mole, and my husband did love it so!"

The queerest page of all ripped from the doctor's diary tells of a young man who confided one day that he thought he was going to become a mother. At last, to placate him, Parker persuaded a hospital matron to let him lie down on a ward bed with his collar and tie loosened.

The sly doctor gave him a whiff of chloroform, and afterwards showed him a borrowed infant. The young man's parental instincts were apparently satisfied, for he got up, pronounced himself well satisfied, and said, "Now I must be off."

Slimming Recipe In One Word

BLACK-HAired, DARK-EYED MISS MARY WHITMARSH, one of the tennis girls in the top row for good looks combined with good play, gave me in one word her whole secret of slimming, fitness, and all that goes to athletic vigour, writes a correspondent. "Work," she said.

Most of the tennis girls have their own secret system for preserving their face, their figure, and their vim.

One girl exhibited a long typescript of medical instructions: a list of eats and not eats, of lettuce leaves, chopped carrots, cold tea, saccharines and boiled cabbage water drinks. I believe it worked well.

JUST WORK

Miss Whitmarsh, Surrey County player and winner of innumerable tournaments, had just polished off Miss Hamilton, ex-Devon County champion, 3-6, 6-2, 8-6, in Surrey covered courts championship at Dulwich, S.E. when she gave me her recipe. She said:—

"It's just work; not diet, not training, work. I've got a job."

Mary has followed in the footsteps of Kay Stammers, Dorothy Round, Rosemary Thomas, She has accepted an appointment with

Round About

Resting after eight hours of wearing work were three gentlemen and a lady. The four sat about in uncomfortable chairs at a square table. The men's suits were crumpled and work-torn. The lady, sadly in need of cosmetics, was not as fresh as a flower either.

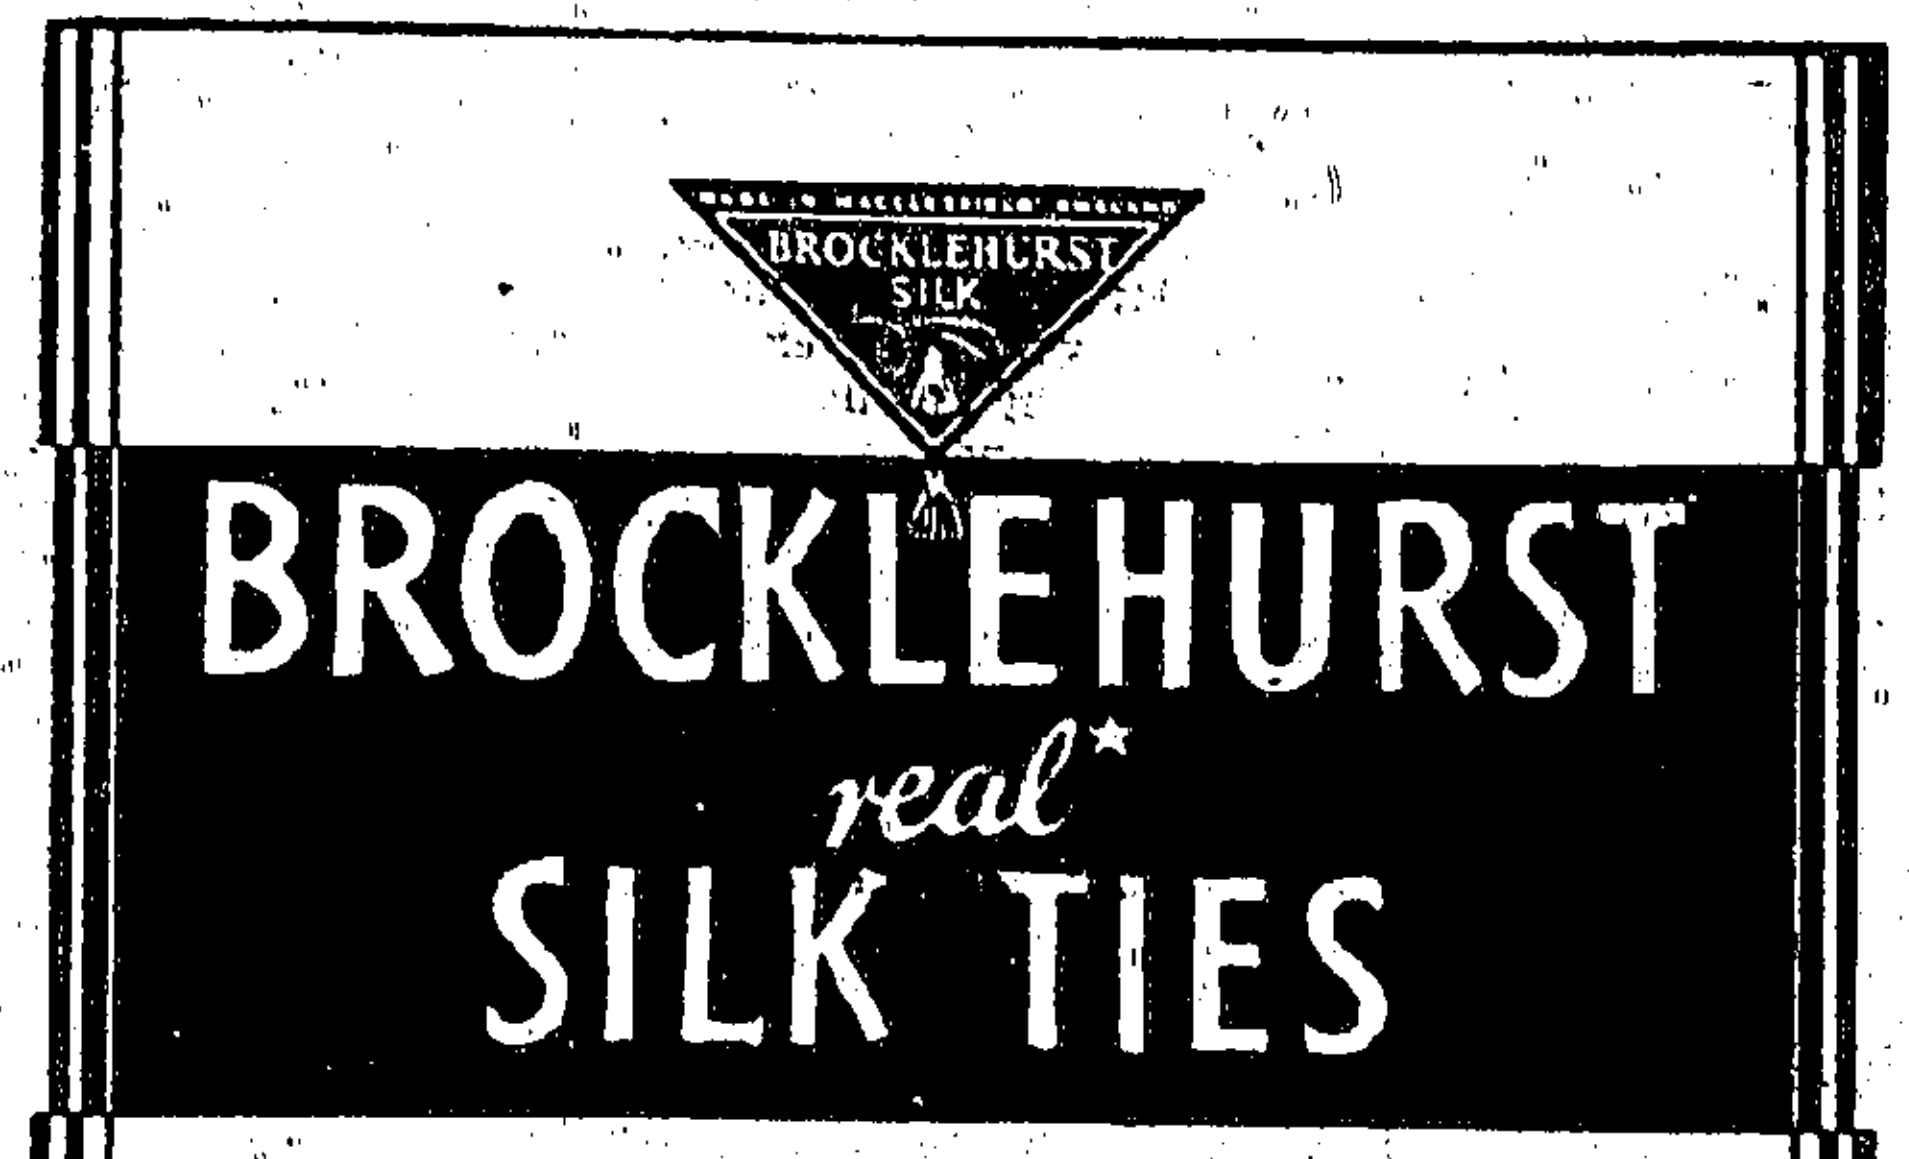

However, all four were in accord. Their thoughts and conversation were light and trivial, their minds resting from the weighty thinking of the day.

Each member of the group nursed a drink of sorts and imbibed the rejuvenating liquid from time to time.

Suddenly the lady spoke in a firm and challenging voice. "I have decided I want a new frock I saw several days ago. To-day, I feel lucky! Who wants to play matches? Fifty dollars?"

The men at the table smiled yet snapped to attention. Matches were passed round and a $50 pot of currency reposed on the table centre.

Five, four, eight, twelve numbers were called. The tired young lady picks up the cost of her new dress and buys her friends a round.

Speech From The Throne Read In House Of Lords

HOPE VOICED THAT SINO-JAPAN CONFLICT WILL SOON END

London, November 4. The speech from the Throne closing the present session of Parliament was read by the Lord Chancellor, Lord Maugham, in the House of Lords this afternoon.

Dealing mainly with foreign and political questions, the speech recalled the cordial reception of Their Majesties in Paris. With deep sorrow, the speech continues, the King had watched the development of the serious European crisis.

The British Government together with the French Government had made all efforts in Prague and Berlin to reach a permanent peaceful settlement of the problem of German minority in Czechoslovakia.

The mission of Lord Runciman had been a substantial contribution to that effect.

Referring to the visits of the Prime Minister, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, to Berchtesgaden, Godesberg and Munich, the speech says that at the time of the Godesberg visit prospects of a peaceful settlement had almost disappeared but at the last moment the Prime Minister had proposed a four-power conference to which the German Chancellor and Signor Mussolini had given him valuable assistance to this suggestion. The Czechoslovak Government and people had accepted the decision reached in Munich with dignity, arousing general admiration.

The speech pays tribute to the attitude of President Roosevelt during the crisis and emphasizing the desire of all nations to avoid war expresses the hope that with the passing of the danger a new European era will begin.

The Government reliably hoped that the Anglo-Italian Agreement will strengthen the existing good relations with Italy.

Referring to the Spanish war the speech welcomes the recent decisions of the Republican Government to discharge all foreign volunteers and of the Franco Government to withdraw part of the foreign volunteers fighting with their forces.

Regarding the hostilities in the Far East the speech expresses regret for the great loss of life on both sides and the impairing of the rights and interests of third parties and voices the hope that the conflict will soon near its end.—Transocean.

Defence Submits Girls Left Swatow For Own Safety

Woman Accused's Evidence In Trafficking Case

The hearing of the case against two women, Chu Po-chu and Chau Lo-sam, charged with trafficking in women and girls, harbouring them and exercising control over prostitutes, before Mr. H. R. Butters at Central Magistracy yesterday, was again adjourned following submissions by the solicitor for the defence and evidence by first defendant.

This is the case in connection with which the Magistrate remarked during Thursday's hearing that the so-called "escort bureaux" carried on in the Colony was nothing but a cloak for prostitution.

Mr. J. B. Prentiss, Assistant Crown Solicitor, prosecuted, assisted by Miss P. Harrop, of the Secretariat for Chinese Affairs, and Detective Sub-Inspector O'Donovan.

Mr. J. M. D'Almada Remedios, defending, opened the defence yesterday by submitting that he had no case to answer. Regarding the first charge against his clients, Ordinance 4 of 1897 was no longer valid since it had been repealed by the Women's and Girls' Ordinance of 1933. Once a statute was repealed by a Repealing Ordinance, no offence committed under the repealed ordinance can be enforced after the coming into force of the Repealing Ordinance.

Dealing with the question of facts, Mr. Remedios went on, the first charge stated that defendants did take part in the bringing, enticing or decoy of girls into the Colony. This was not so. They left Swatow for their own safety, and voluntarily, owing to the dangers of a Japanese invasion, therefore there was no question of their being forced to come here.

NO MENS REA

There must also be mens rea. Even if there was an offence, which he submitted there was not, it was only a technical one.

Dealing with the other charges Mr. Remedios said that the girls had stated they knew prostitution was not allowed in the Colony. Miss Harrop herself had stated that she warned the girls against practising prostitution.

Second defendant had also not been arrested, but had gone to the S. C. A. of her own free will and was there charged. If she had been guilty she would not have gone there. Mr. Remedios then remarked on the contradictory nature of the evidence given.

Mr. Prentiss replied, after which His Worship ruled against Mr. Remedios in his submission that the repealed Ordinance was not effective, and that on the evidence there was a case to answer on all the charges he had previously ruled there was.

DEFENDANT TESTIFIES

Mr. Remedios then put first defendant in the witness-box. Chu Po-chu, through Miss Marion Chan, Lady Inspector at the S. C. A., said that previous to coming to Hongkong she had resided in Swatow and Chin Fui-fai, one of the girls concerned in the case, was brought to her by her husband. Another girl, Chin Oi-kwan, was brought to her in April last year. They came to Hongkong because of the Japanese bombings in Swatow, the husband taking the girls down here.

The girls were sing-song girls in Swatow and had never practised prostitution there. In Hongkong they all stayed at No. 9 Fuk Luk Lane, second floor. The flat actually consisted of only a room and was not very big.

Chin Fui-fai was not correct in saying witness (defendant) had forced her to practise prostitution, nor was she ever forced to practise elsewhere, than on the floor. She was not aware that the girl had prostituted at any time.

NOT SWATOW PROSTITUTES

The girls who had told the court that they practised prostitution in Swatow were not telling the truth—they were only sing-song girls. They had never been forced to prostitute themselves as she alleged.

Mr. Remedios' How was it necessary to know how to dance before you joined the Escort Bureau?—They had to know it before they could be guide girls. The regulations of the bureaux were that one had to know dancing, swimming, and the streets.

For what purpose?—Because customers sometimes wanted them to go out with them.

Were you then aware that these guide girls were to be prostitutes themselves at times?—No.

In cross-examination Mr. Prentiss questioned defendant regarding the statement she had made at the S. C. A. Defendant asserted that while making that statement she had only said the girls were sing-song girls in Swatow and had not added they were prostitutes.

The girls had been sold to her husband as sing-song girls. It was not true that she had not stopped the girls from practising prostitution because it had in fact been agreed that they were to do so.

At this stage the case was adjourned till Monday afternoon.

COURT DECISION UPHELD

Dismissal Of Summons Sequel

At the Full Court of Appeal yesterday, before the Acting Chief Justice, Mr. Justice R. E. Lindsell, and the Acting Puisne Judge, Mr. Justice E. H. Williams, the appeal brought by Sanitary Inspector V. M. Benwell against a decision of the Senior Magistrate was dismissed.

The appeal was for the reversal of the decision of the Senior Magistrate in dismissing a summons taken out by the appellant charging Un Wai with having permitted the basement of No. 22 Star Street, Wanchai, to be used for habitation, contrary to Section 50 of the Public Health (Sanitation) Ordinance of 1935.

Mr. M. J. Abbott appeared for the appellant, the respondent not being legally represented.

His Lordship the Chief Justice reviewed the case at length and concluded by saying:—

"I have come to the conclusion, not without some doubt, that the Magistrate was right in dismissing the summons against the respondent on the ground that there was no evidence to show that he was in a position to prevent the occurrence of the offence complained of. This appeal must therefore be dismissed."

Mr. Justice Williams concurred.

FUND FOR RELIEF

best to raise funds will be discussed. The Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith, Chairman, and I consider it best for the Chinese promoters to undertake to raise the money amongst the Chinese. I hope to convene a meeting for this purpose at an early date, when all interested, including temporary residents, will be invited to discuss procedure.

The appeal is already launched and there does not seem to be any need for an addition to the list of signatures, but there is nothing to prevent—in fact we would welcome—anyone who so desires making personal appeals to friends and others."

NOT CENTRAL ORGANISATION

To the second question, Sir Robert replied: "It is official only in the sense that officials joined with private citizens in making the appeal. There has never been any intention or even a title of an idea that this new organisation should become a central organisation for the collection of money but, of course, we welcome the co-operation of any existing organisations in the relief of the distressed in China."

"The object of the Board of Administrators is to ensure the proper distribution and expenditure of all funds collected by this branch. I am very glad of this opportunity to explain the aims and objects of this Fund and I shall be pleased to give any other information that the public may desire."

SUCCESSFUL PRODUCTION BY AMATEURS

St. Mary's Staff And Pupils

Over two hundred people attended a play given by the St. Mary's staff and pupils in the school premises yesterday evening, the proceeds of which will go to the funds for the Society of St. Vincent de Paul in aid of wounded soldiers.

The play, entitled "Lettice's Pink Gown," was really a great success. It is a modern play with a story leading back to the Napoleonic age.

The story was about Lettice, whose gown for a tableau did not arrive as expected. After fruitless attempts by her different school mates, her young sister finally announced that it had arrived by special post.

As a reward Lettice told her the story of the "Red Boy." This was one of the ancestors who was lost and after many years of hard toil was reunited with the family.

The members of the staff played the roles of the school-girls while the students appeared as the other characters in the story of the Red Boy, as related by Lettice.

Miss Daisy Yao who played the parts of Lettice, the young sister of Lettice, and the Red Boy, deserved much credit. She simply lived the roles she acted and her golden voice held the audience spellbound.

Miss Bella Ma's acting also delighted those present.

The beautiful scenery, the lovely costumes, the singing, dancing and acting of all concerned helped a great deal to make this amateur production a success.

Reduction Of Rubber Stocks

POSSIBLE BY END OF YEAR

London, Nov. 4.

"That a reduction of rubber stocks of 50,000 tons is a practical possibility by the end of the year is the opinion of the 'Financial News.'"

If this is materialised, the paper says, it might put a different complexion on the rubber situation and might well lead to an advance in prices, even if a 50 per cent is introduced for the first quarter of 1939.

The paper points out that although Malaya had exceeded permissible exports by nearly 15,000 tons by the end of October the Malayan authorities in the past have always succeeded in bringing exports within the quota, while the Netherlands East Indies and Ceylon have so far maintained a rigid check on their shipments.—Reuter

Week-end Softball Should Be Interesting

The Panthers, and the Chinese Girls will start off to-morrow's softball programme, when they clash at 10.00 a.m. on the Filipino Club ground. At the same time, on their own ground the Central British Assoc. will entertain the softball squad of the U.S.S. Tulsa, directly after which, the St. Andrews Ladies will make their debut under the name of "Cardinals" in a practice session against the Central British Ladies.

The league matches will start as usual at 12.30 p.m., and the opener will see the Trojans in action against the Canadian Chinese. The former, who gave a great display last week, have been practising assiduously under the guidance of their new coach, Jimmy Hum, and are expected to give their opponents a rare battle.

Several positional changes will be made in the Canadian's line-up and Al. Lau will be seen at the keystone sack or, if Kaasa Nazarin be unable to turn out, at short. Bill Ing will do duty at the initial bag.

The second game, at 1.45 p.m., will be an inter-school affair; St. Joseph's meeting the Midsets who are actually students of the Diocesan Boys' School. This should be a walk-over for the league leading Midsets, who have, in Herbie Quon and Sammy Wong, one of the best batteries that have been seen this year.

St. Joseph's will go into the field with the moral support of the fans, but unless they can give a greatly improved display, they will do well to get their opponents out in time for the final game to start as per schedule.

HONGKONG CLUB MEET INDIANS

Giants Clash At Sookunpoo

(BY "TAC")

Feature of the cricket programme for to-day is the clash between Indian Recreation Club, joint champions of the First Division, and Hongkong Cricket Club, who are expected to make a very strong bid indeed for the senior shield.

The Club is fielding a powerful side, so powerful that R. H. Griffiths, one of the best "uncapped" bats in the Colony, is 12th man. The names are Owen-Hughes, Alec Pearce, Longfield, Scoones, Halsey, J. H. Fox, Rice, Bowker, Beck, F. H. Stokes and Kilbee.

The side is the same as that which beat the Army by making 183 runs against the clock last week, with the exceptions that Longfield is back in place of S. J. Cooke, and Stokes takes the place of J. H. B. Leckie, who, I believe, has left for the North.

Of the Indian team A. R. Minu is again not playing, and of last week's eleven Baker is being replaced by A. K. Minu.

Without Minu—A.R. I mean—the Indians will do very well to get the Club out for 150. Frankly, I don't think they will, at the same time I don't expect them to lose. A. H. Madar, acting skipper, has not been very successful to date, but the bigger the game and the tougher the situation, the more likely is he to come off and I have a feeling he will get going in this match. Of the others four are as likely to come off as not.

One thing, the Club will have the "advantage" of playing away. I use the word guardedly. The records show that, for some reason or other, the Indians have always done better when they meet the Club on the town ground than when they play at their own quiet and picturesque Sookunpoo!

OTHER GAMES

Craigengower and the Press are going to have some fun together, though I rather fear the latter will be at the sticky-end of it. The other senior game is the one between Army and Relevo, likely to be a close affair.

In the Second, Kowloon entertain Diocesan Boys, Police play the Indians at the Valley and Relevo is at home to Central British.

TSINGTAO'S FOREIGN MERCHANTS HAMPERED

Prohibitive Regulations Framed By Japanese

The prohibitive regulations set up in July in regard to exports from Tsingtao are still in force, says a Tsingtao correspondent. Japanese exporters are getting round the regulations, which are chiefly aimed at obtaining foreign currency, by negotiating their export documents at Shanghai at current rates and obtaining permits to ship in Tsingtao from the local authorities.

Other exporters are unable to obtain these permits to ship unless they negotiate their documents through the Yokohama Specie Bank at the official rates of 1/2 for sterling and 29 for U.S.

As a result of these stranglehold restrictions, non-Japanese exporters are forced to remain inactive, while Japanese shippers are selling freely to Europe and America, specially to the latter country and it is reported that they have made sales for November/December/January shipment. Japanese merchants are selling on the basis of shipment from any North China port or Shanghai at their option, and in the case of oil, Dairen firms are shipping their soya beans to Tientsin to be crushed there for shipment from that port, thus getting the benefit of current exchange rates there.

FINANCING DENIED

Tsingtao merchants are not even granted the normal financing facilities, documents being sent to destination for collection, the bank refusing to purchase the documents for cash or credit, nor will they grant an overdraft. In other words, all non-Japanese exports are forced to remain idle, with Japanese merchants monopolizing the business.

It is understood that these same regulations will in the near future be extended to all North China ports—Tientsin, Chefoo, Weihaiwei—and Shanghai will be considered a foreign port, which means that import and export duty will be levied on all goods going in or coming out of Shanghai.

Eggs and egg products which, besides groundnuts and groundnut oil also form important items of export from Tsingtao and which have hitherto not been affected, will also, most probably, come under these regulations soon.

AN INOPERATIVE SOP

As an impossible and inoperative sop to the many protests and complaints of foreign exporters the Japanese naval and military authorities, from whose offices these restrictions have emanated, recently agreed to permit merchants to ship and also negotiate their documents at Shanghai at current rates, but their remittances to Tsingtao from Shanghai for these same shipments had to come through the Yokohama Specie Bank, whose charge for this transfer or remittance is approximately 40 per cent.

In other words, after selling their export documents in Shanghai at the current rate of say '8d. or U.S.$16 and realizing say a sum of Ch.$10,000—this sum on being transferred to Tsingtao through the Yokohama Specie Bank, would only net the exporter 'Federal' Currency $8000. This of course is as prohibitive as the original restriction.

It is reported that one large foreign shipper, with branch office at Shanghai decided to give this latter alternative a test and after being assured by the Japanese Consulate that the shipment would be quite in order, was surprised on applying for permit to ship from the naval authorities to be flatly refused.

GERMANY-EIRE TRADE PACT

Dublin, Nov. 4

The trade agreement concluded between Germany and Eire amounts in the main to a prolongation for a further year of the existing agreements between the two countries, the agreement being extended to include Austria and Sudetenland. New arrangements are made to supply Germany with eggs, meat, cattle and herrings.

In the first nine months of the current year, Germany exported to Eire to the value of £1,132, 165 and imported from Eire to the value of £765,450.—Transocean.

AIDING RURAL ECONOMY

The Bureau of Farm Credits, with the help of the various provincial governments is now aiding rural co-operative undertakings already established in the various provinces and is setting up new ones.

Co-operative granaries are being organized to the end that rural conditions may be improved and farmers are being given small credit loans at low interest rates for urgent needs.

Co-operative experts and rural economy experts have been detailed by the Bureau to carry out these measures.

P. I. TOBACCO EXPORTS

Leaf tobacco exports from Manila during the week ended October 22 increased substantially while cigar and cigarette shipments declined according to figures compiled by the P. I. Bureau of Commerce.

Total exports of leaf tobacco during the period amounted to 42,198 quintals. These compare with only 5,494 quintals for the previous week.

Cigar shipments, on the other hand, fell to 2,094,880 units from 7,108,037 of the preceding week. Exports of cigarettes likewise dropped sharply to 170,000 units from 9,105,200 of the preceding week.

Szechuen Notes

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT

In view of the importance of Szechuen to the carrying on of the war of resistance, the Central authorities have worked out three measures in connection with the reconstruction of this region: to increase food production, to dredge water channels, and to set up power plants. Investigation and surveying are now being conducted. A number of power plants will be established in the regions where water power can be utilized, and the river between Chingsha and Kunming will be dredged.

The Chiu Ta Salt Refining Company, one of the largest enterprises at Tangku, near Tientsin, and the only large company of its kind in China, has moved to Szechuen. It has bought 100 mow of land at Chienwei where a new refinery is to be constructed. The Company has also purchased a large amount of coal from Loshan, Chienwei, and Haugui, and a light railway has been constructed at Chienwei and Changchow for the transportation of the coal.

Statistic released by the Chungking Chamber of Commerce show that goods imported into Chungking during the past seven months were valued at over $14,000,000. Cotton yarn topped the list; mineral products came second.

NEW SHANGHAI COTTON MART

With a capital of one million yen a Sino-Japanese company has completed preparations to open a cotton exchange in Shanghai, according to a report from Osaka.

The report stated that the exchange will be capitalized with 7,500 shares subscribed by Japanese promoters, 5,000 shares by the Japanese cotton mills and 7,500 shares by the Chinese Cotton Goods Exchange, Ltd. of Shanghai.

Goods to be handled at the new exchange will include raw cotton, cotton yarn, cotton piece goods and rayon silk. At the outset the exchange will limit its business to raw cotton and cotton yarn and the other goods will be handled later.

It was understood that all transactions will be conducted in Chinese national currency.

RADIO TOUCH WITH LINHSIEN

Wireless telegraph messages for Linhsien, the present seat of the Kwangtung Provincial Government, are being accepted by Cable and Wireless Ltd. at the regular inland rate of 40 cents a word. Messages are routed via Chengtu.

WENCHOW SAILINGS SUSPENDED

The Ou River at Wenchow has been closed to shipping since November 1 by Chinese military headquarters and it is learned that coastal ships have decided to omit calling at the port until further notice.

British Traders Protest Against Premier's Stand

Shanghai, November 4.

The British Chamber of Commerce here, in a vigorously worded cable to London for transmission to the Foreign Office, protests against the statement by the Prime Minister in the House of Commons in regard to the future of British trade in China.

The telegram declares that the Chamber does not feel the optimism expressed by Mr. Chamberlain is justified unless the British Government is prepared to support that optimism by much firmer action than hitherto shown.

The message adds that the American and French Chambers of Commerce in Shanghai, who are working in close association with the British body, are also most perturbed by the complacency shown by Mr. Chamberlain, which is "entirely contrary to fact." Reuter.

PROPOSED PLANT FOR YUNNAN

A paper and a cement factory is expected to be set up shortly in Kunming (Yunnan) through the joint efforts of Messrs. Tu Yushen, Shanghai merchant now in Hongkong, Y. M. Chien, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Bank of Communications, and other well-known bankers.

The market opened 1/4 of a cent lower for all deliveries as compared with Wednesday's closing quotations.

In sympathy with advices from London and New York the market ruled quiet after the opening. Demand for "actuals" was moderate, whilst dealers and speculators were disinclined to operate to any extent, preferring to maintain side-line positions.

Subsequently, the market became steadier on some speculative buying which, coming on a quiet and narrow market, put prices up by 1/4 cent for all deliveries.

Closing tone was quiet but steady. The approaching meeting of the I.R.R. Committee on the 15th inst. is exercising a deterrent influence, particularly on speculative activity. In view of this fact it is generally felt that only minor price-fluctuations may be expected until after the meeting.

Malayan Domestic Rubber Exports during October are estimated at 27,000 tons as against 20,500 tons in September and 23,000 tons in August.

Market quiet but steady.

NEW YORK COTTON

Early in the session the market advanced moderately on higher Liverpool and Bombay cables, as well as covering and speculative and foreign buying. Later, values reacted on hedge selling and liquidation. Switching operations were much in evidence in the afternoon and the market ruled quiet and narrow. Most operators are reluctant to enter into new commitments. Finally, the market closed steady.

NEW YORK RUBBER

Early in the day, the market advanced on higher cables from abroad. There was some covering orders, as well as buying by Commission houses and London factories. Later, values further advanced on Trade and local buying.

CHICAGO WHEAT

The market declined on liquidation and weak foreign advices. Reports of beneficial rains helped to depress values. Later, prices rallied partially on professional buying and a better milling demand, plus covering by shorts.
